1954

The observance of the Fiftieth Anniversary of both the Leominster High School and the MAGNET is the theme of our Yearbook. Throughout the book we have tried to carry an "anniversary" spirit. We feel that the art work on this and the pages that follow, presents the theme very well.

Our class wishes continued success to Leominster High School, our "alma mater."

DEDICATION

We, the Class of 1954, affectionately dedicate our Yearbook to our former classmate Alice Louise Foss. We can never forget her contribution to the happiness of our school years through the warmth and humor that made her such a fine friend and companion. We know that our class and our school still mean a great deal to Alice; we remember gratefully and with pride her co-operation in many student activities. Alice will always be remembered for her fine spirit and everlasting courage.

OUR ADVISORS

We, the Class of 1954, wish to express our most sincere thanks to our Class Advisors, George Peck and John Rogers, who have devoted many hours to us during our three years on the Hill. Whenever our class has held a meeting, they have given up their time to be on hand. Without their assistance our class elections would not have been so successful.

We owe the accomplishments of our class to our worthy advisors.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE

We are proud of Mr. Appleton, Superintendent of Schools, and thankful for his generous service to us. Not only in our high school years, but from the first grade onward his wise decisions have been for our good. As head of the Athletic Council he is credited with much of the success of our football games. Although his program is a busy one, he is always willing to be present at assemblies, graduations, and public meetings to brighten the program with his anecdotes. His fine personality will always be remembered by us, the Class of 1954.

OUR PRINCIPAL

There is a proverb from the Bible which says, "He that is loose and slack in his work is the brother of him that wasteth his own works."

From this proverb we can learn a valuable lesson. It is true that too many of us are satisfied with doing just enough. No one is eager to put himself out to do a little extra unless, as he puts it, "There is something in it for me." To do our work faithfully and thoroughly is a great asset that will not escape unnoticed.

Courtesy is another forgotten trait that should be revived; it goes a long way toward creating a good impression. Very often, because of forgetfulness or thoughtlessness, we neglect to consider the feelings of others.

By doing our work well and being courteous to others, we will create lasting, good impressions.

"If you cant go to France to study, bring France to America." This is the slogan of the French Club, and it is a grand idea. That is just what we are doing at LHS. Our ambassador from France is sixteen year old Maurice Afoufa. To get the complete story, we should go back seven years to the time when we first knew Maurice.

An organization in Boston, called American Aid to France, sent the name of Maurice Afoufa with the names of nine others to the French Department here. We adopted six of these children and sent them packages and letters each month. We have kept Maurice ever since. Pupils who sent letters and packages to Maurice have been graduated, but the spirit has been passed on to newcomers by our French teacher, Mrs. Bucknell. Some where along the way the idea of bringing Maurice to America arose.

Several years ago a cookbook was created by LHS pupils to earn more money to aid and promote this visit. Yes, it was created with one thousand nine hundred and ninety-nine duplicates. So with the earnest efforts of many students and our advisor, the cookbooks began journeying to friends, relatives, and strangers, telling of their mission of friendship.

We of the Class of '54 are delighted that Maurice arrived in January this year before we leave LHS. He is enrolled as a regular student in the Junior Class. The subjects which he is studying are chemistry, typewriting, art, gym, and English with extra help from the students.

We want Maurice to see more of America than its school life. Many French Club members have already invited him to skiing and skating parties, to basketball games, to the movies, and to their homes. We are planning to take him on a tour of some important historic and scenic spots in America.

There is much reason why we should feel proud of this adventure, for we are perhaps the first high school in America to sponsor a year's study for a foreigner.

Beyond being an act of friendship on the part of a few people we believe that this is an important international step in promoting a mutual understanding and lasting friendship between the countries of America and France.

1951-1952

Let's go back in vision now through storm and calm, through sunshine and cloud, three years in the history of our class at LHS.

Could we recapture the emotion of that first September day, we would find ourselves a little timid and suspicious of the Seniors so well scattered in our midst. We couldn't even fool ourselves into pretending that we were unconcerned of them. We soon learned to accept the storms so bountifully bestowed upon us, looking to the future when we would control the wind and the weather.

The induction assembly in September introduced us to the club activities, most of which were held on Tuesday.

Following the tradition of LHS, we sophomores eagerly(?) awaited the time when we should give our five-minute speeches. The surprising aspect of this first adventure was that many of our five-minute speeches lasted only three minutes for some unknown reason. However, we were proud that Carl Lanza won second prize in the final contest before the school.

As a class, we were not without organization, for after the speeches had been given and the α 's counted we accepted the following officers: James Hannigan, pilot; Bruce Wilder, co-pilot; Sandra Castriotta, correspondent; La Vonta Watson, collector of revenue.

Not all was storm and strife this year. December brought the fulfillment of our plans for the Sophomore Party. The assembly hall itself told the story of a gay time for all.

Before long, June was knocking at our door. The clouds were all behind us as we put our foot forward to step a little higher next year.

1952-1953

After a short vacation (too short!) our class was again together at old Leominster High. On September 15, we chose our Junior Cheerleaders. They were Carole Pitts, Judith Coolidge, Ann Turano, and Rose Cudone. A few weeks later Susanne LaClair was chosen Junior Editor of the Magnet.

From observation one could almost forecast a profitable and progressive year for us Juniors. We were no more in the storm, but almost independent enough to glide through the calm atmosphere.

During November we held our class elections. The leaders we chose were Carl Lanza, pilot; Natalie Damon, co-pilot; Sandra Castriotta, correspondent; and Leeds Carluccio, collector of revenue. These officers enthusiastically accepted their positions of responsibility to uphold the standard of our class. Also in November another honor came to the Class of '54. Peter Selig won first prize in the five-minute speech contest.

In January the winter sports held the spotlight. The Ski Club made plans for the Winter Carnival and elected Susanne LaClair and Normand Letarte as Junior Chairmen.

Also in January we had the pleasure of seeing the inauguration of President Eisenhower on television in the assembly hall.

The Class of '54 was again honored when Leeds Carluccio took second prize in the essay contest held by the Jewish War Veterans. On April 25, the Junior Prom was held in the city hall. Frankie Dee's orchestra, the crystal ball, and the grand march led by the officers—all combined to make a gala affair.

On May 16, we of the Junior Class had an excellent chance to learn about the community. We observed B.I.E. Day and had a chance to see how the factories work. Besides these interesting visits we also had a banquet at Clover Hill Restaurant.

HISTORY

You see, the elements were all for us, because along with the clear weather we had a favorable tail-wind which boosted us up to great heights. To stop here would mean a nose-dive and disaster. But before leaving in June we set the mark for a higher altitude in continuing our journey next year.

1953-1954

On September 9, we took off into fair skies with a plane full of expectations. Didn't the time fly! Surprisingly we started the year with a bang that resounded through the halls of LHS. Our remembrance of two years ago was vivid as we applied our authority to the Sophomores. We really didn't mean to antagonize Mr. Kucharski, our new principal; for it wasn't long before we heeded his pleading for diplomacy.

Soon we had the following chosen as officers of our airline: Barry Watkins, pilot; Natalie Damon, co-pilot; Joan Gentile, correspondent; Leeds Carluccio, collector of revenue.

The Class of '54 certainly has its share of champions. We heartily cheered Mabel Milton as she was presented first prize for the speech contest.

Everything was set and well planned for the Thanksgiving Day Dance at the Recreation Center. Herbert Howard's orchestra provided the music. In charge of arrangements and worthy of credit for a good time were Barry Watkins, Dennis Duval, Rose Cudone, Daniel Hill, and Leeds Carluccio. Invitations were extended to alumni also. The score of the day, however, was undoubtedly made by the football team, of which we were proud.

In the social field James Hannigan and Shiela Regan were voted King and Queen for the evening at TAC on December 6.

What a short break our Christmas vacation was. Almost with jet speed we were off again into the blue, leaving '53 behind the horizon and cruising hopefully into '54.

By student votes Carl Lanza was chosen as our representative to the State House in Boston on Good Government Day. Peter Selig was his alternate.

Susanne LaClair was chosen by student and faculty vote for the D.A.R. Good Citizenship Prize and a trip to Boston. Catherine Royak was the alternate delegate.

In air travel it is sometimes necessary to cancel trips or alter plans because of weather conditions. In planning for our Winter Carnival we were grounded, not because of snow, but for the lack of it. However, we were able to make the trip by changing the route. We could not use the snow sculpturing although Janice Santucci was chairman for the Seniors. Skiing was also impossible. At TAC on February 13, Rose Cudone and Barry Watkins were honored to wear the Winter Carnival crowns for King and Queen. Susanne LaClair, Rosanna Newell, Donald Gillis, and Paul Martineau were their attendants.

Many of us will hold pleasant memories of the Senior Prom, for it was a product of care and preparation by our class officers. Dancing and dinner at Sterling Inn were only part of the fun of being with friends and classmates for the evening.

Even now we can remember that joyful moment when our plane passed through a gorgeous sunset. Yes, the Senior Play was full of the color and splendor of a sunset sky. As each classmate performed his part for the success of the event it was as though the colors of nature were blended into a beautiful scene. Behind it all we could feel a guiding power working and encouraging each one. Without the wisdom of Mr. Joyce, the co-operation of Barry Watkins as production manager, and Elfriede Goetz and Natalie Damon as assistants, such an attempt would have been inconceivable. As the title suggests, it was all "As You Like It."

Really, the sunset on our years at LHS was beautiful, but "time waits for no man." The sun is beginning to rise on a new experience for us. As we each take off on separate planes, let's hope that we'll sail into fair skies as we go "beyond the blue horizon."

PROPHECY

Deep in the woods,
A sly gypsy dwells,
And if given some money,
The future he tells.

When I asked him one day
What my classmates would be,
The old gypsy told me

SOPHOMORE PARTY

WINTER CARNIVAL

On February 13, 1954, the Ski Club and TAC held its annual Winter Carnival Ball at City Hall.

Chosen by the students at LHS for the Carnival were Rose Cudone, Queen, and Barry Watkins, King. Susanne LaClair, Donald Gillis, Rosanna Newell, and Paul Martineau were the attendants to the Queen and King.

Because of the lack of snow, the sculpturing, skating, and skiing were cancelled.

JUNIOR PROM

The Class of '54 sponsored the Spring Formal on April 24, 1953. The class officers headed the various committees. After a fun-filled evening of dancing to the music of Frankie Dee's Orchestra many of the guests met at The Meadows in Framingham to end the evening with dinner and more dancing.

SENIOR PROM

The class officers led the Grand March at the Senior Prom held on March 1, 1954, at the City Hall. The crystal ball added atmosphere to the occasion as the couples danced to the music of Roger Carrier's Orchestra. After the Prom the couples congregated at the Sterling Inn for dinner.

AS YOU LIKE IT SHAKESPEARE'S COMEDY

This fifty-first senior production was presented jointly by the Classes of '54 of Leominster High School and Saxton Trade High School at the May A. Gallagher Junior High School Auditorium on April 28 and 30, 1954. Students with faculty aid and counseling took the entire responsibility for this production. Every member of the two Senior Classes assumed some obligation for the success of this class play.

Alma

Mater

Works by Robert Cormier '42

Music by Alphonse Piermarini '42

Upon the hill you stand upright
Against the storm of time and tide.
Your glory is our guiding light;
Your nobleness, our pride.
We raise our voices now in song
And send your praise across the sky.
You served us faithfully and long;
Your spirit shall not die.

CHORUS

Hail, O Alma Mater, hail to you,
Your noble heart, forever proud and true.
And though years are dark and long,
This will be our song forever more.
The trust you gave us we shall not forget,
For faith can never know regret.
The star of truth, symbol of our youth,
We praise you, Leominster High.
